Tim Noah comes to Gig Harbor

The Children's Museum of Tacoma is presenting Tim Noah, Emmy Award-winning songwriter and recording artist in concert on Sunday, July 19 from 1-2 pm at Celebrations Meadow in Gig Harbor. Since the concert is on the same day as the Gig Harbor Arts Festival, families may first see the Festival and then take their picnic lunch up to Celebrations Meadow to eat and enjoy the concert.

Tim Noah's show is a musical celebration of the imagination, and is based on his award-winning album, "In Search of the Wow Wow Wibble Wobble Wazzie Woodie Woo." The performance will also include songs from his new release, "Dare Dreamer," featuring all original music, custom-designed costumes and props, and lots of audience involvement.

Noah is a well-known producer of songs and programs for young people, including his "Tim Noah Back-to-School Special," a one-hour program on KOMO-TV which premiered in September 1985. He has also received awards and recognition for his work on an energy conservation special on KING-TV, a ballad for the award-winning special, "DWI: Sorry Isn't Enough", and a ballad for the child abuse special, "Do you hear the Children Weeping?" both aired on KIRO-TV.

The Tim Noah Concert is a major fund-raising project for the Children's Museum of Tacoma, located at 925 Court C in downtown Tacoma. The purpose of the museum is stated to be, "a special place where children and adults can touch, feel, and experience their universe." Tickets for the Tim Noah concert are available at the Bubble-Gum Closet and Mostly Books in Gig Harbor, and will also be sold at a booth at the Arts Festival and at the door at Celebrations Meadow at the top of Peacock Hill. Ticket prices are $4.50 for adults and $3.50 for children, and it is suggested that one take both a lunch to eat and a blanket to sit upon.

Further local information on the Tim Noah show and on the Children's Museum of Tacoma can be obtained by calling Judy Vasconcelos at 851-4632.

Park Board meeting moves towards an agreement - a little bit (maybe!)

An agreement for the Key Peninsula Civic Center Association to continue operating the programs at the Civic Center for the balance of 1987 may have moved a little closer to reality at the meeting of the Park Board on Wednesday night, July 8.

Park Commissioner Daphne Daus distributed and explained a draft copy of a preliminary Agreement which she and Park Commissioner Mike Kent had worked out with the cooperation and assistance of KPCCA President Vicki Henschel and Vice President Dale Loy. The preliminary Agreement, which represented a great deal of work on the part of those involved, was designed to meet updated legal points which have been raised over the last several months, and to more closely define the responsibilities and relationships between the Park Board, the KPCCA and the KPAA.

The Agreement, if adopted and approved by both groups, is planned to replace a previous Agreement which was terminated this past spring, but which has been extended since that time. The Board supported a move to submit the proposed Agreement to the Park Board and KPCCA attorneys for comment and/or approval or amendment. Park Board Commissioner John Steiner authored a motion to seek an audit of both Associations by the State Auditors Office, but the Park Board voted to do this only on the written recommendation of their attorney, Joseph Quinn of Tacoma. Whether this will be done or not may be the subject of negotiation between attorneys.

In order to allow the attorneys for both sides to have more time to work out contractual details, Commissioner Terry Moore and the Park Board then voted to extend the operation of the current contract another 30 days.

Pioneer Day moving right along...

Plans are moving ahead rapidly for the New Pioneer Day to be held on Saturday, August 8 in downtown Key Center, with primary focus on the area around the Key Center Corral. Entries for both the Grand Parade and booths of all types are still being solicited, and an entry blank has been printed in this issue of the NEWS for those who wish to join up and participate.

Cheri Mastro, president of the Key Peninsula Business Association, has announced a tentative Schedule of Events for Pioneer Day as printed below:

- 10:00 am to 6:00 pm Fire Depart. Open House
Lions Hearing Aid Van
Lions Coffee & Donuts
- 11:00 am Parade from west of Key Center thru town.
- 1:00 pm to close Music & Entertainment - K.C. Corral.
Game booths open, Kids Petting Farm Opens.
Other special events to be announced.
- 1:00 pm Chili Judging Contest (left-over chili to be distributed free).
- 1:30 pm Pie Eating Contest, open to all comers.
- 2:00 pm KPCCA Grand Auction
- 4:00 pm Music and street dancing til closing.
- 6:00 pm Close

The above program is tentative, and subject to changes and the addition of further events. The final program will appear in the August 1 issue of the NEWS

Residents should note that the entrance to the north end of the Civic Center parking lot will be closed with a cable following the last event of the evening to prevent misuse of the parking area.

Editorial comment

We think that notice should be duly taken when someone, or a "group of someones" does a good turn for our Peninsula community, and such is certainly the case with the Fireworks Show on Joe's Bay, July 4.

Starting with the anonymous donor who has supported the show for the past several years; others who have donated to the Fund; the District 16 Firefighters who shoot the displays off, arrange the program, man the barricades, and all the rest... you all did well!

Thanks are also due to Chuck Robbins of Pierce County Sheriff's office for his support, and to the members of the community who turned out "the morning after" to help with cleaning up.

All in all, Chuck West (who headed the show this year), the District 16 Commissioners, the Department, the Firefighters, and all the citizen volunteer helpers made it a neat display that was enjoyed by many, without any of the negative problems that have plagued such events in other communities.

Well done, all concerned, and thank you.

KLS.

We get letters...

Dear Editor:

Right on, Mr. Editor! That was an excellent editorial in a recent issue of KP NEWS about having more plays and entertainment at the Civic Center.

There is a church in Tacoma that sponsors a lecture series featuring national lecturers. It is a very popular activity even though the lectures are held in the morning with lunch following sometimes.

The sponsors of this activity rent a hall, give out programs at each lecture, and still make money from their season ticket sale to assist their church, and give to other charities. We might have four evening programs in September, October, February and March. These could be varied: Dinner theater, inspirational lecture, home talent (vaudeville), an evening of music. What a great idea, Mr. Editor. Pursue it.

If carefully managed, this could be a moneymaker for the Center as well as a community-spirited endeavor.
Zoe Sanders.

Bear one, Car zero!

Vicki Henschel, president of the KPCCA, was a bit shaken, and her car had some bumps and dents to show for the occasion, as a result of a car/bear fender bender in the south part of the Peninsula on July 10.

Vicki reported that she was driving slowly along a side street, looking for a place to park, when the bear came charging out of the woods and crashed into the side of her car, knocking off a hubcap, which rolled down a nearby hill.

Following the incident, Vicki reported it to her insurance company, much to the amazement of her agent. Whether or not the bear (uninjured) turned in a claim is not known at press time.

Carr Inlet remains closed for Chinook salmon fishing

Local sports fishermen are reminded that the northern end of Carr Inlet (roughly from about halfway between Home and Lakebay north to the end of Henderson Bay) is closed for Chinook salmon fishing until August 15. Fishing for Coho is legal during that period, however.

In 1960, the state of California had 19,000 lawyers ... now there are more than 130,000 of them, and the hazard is growing at the rate of about 2000 per year!

Your Park Board

by Daphne Daus

Oskar Schock reported that the Park District's Summer Fun Program began this week with 23 children enrolled. The district is working with Oskar to hire a student from the PLU work study program to direct the final three weeks of the program. He also reported that the scheduled move of the building donated to the Park District has been delayed due to an unexpected increase in the cost of moving the building. He is pursuing other options at this time.

Preparation for the auction sponsored by the Civic Center Association is going extremely well, according to a report given by Vicki Henschel. The auction will be a portion of the Pioneer Day celebration being promoted by the Key Peninsula Business Association and scheduled for August 8. Ann Larson is chairing the auction.

The balance of the meeting was dedicated to the ongoing contract negotiations between the Park District and its contractual organizations. Commissioner Daus gave a brief dissertation regarding the action that has transpired to date.

Commissioners Daus and Kent met with Vicki Henschel and Dale Loy regarding the need to find common ground on which to establish a new agreement. After more than four hours of discussion a document was drawn up and submitted to the attorneys representing both organizations. The agreement was submitted to the Board as an agreement "in theory" to be considered for approval. The Park Board unanimously approved the agreement with the proviso that approval from both attorneys would be required, and a preliminary ruling from the State Auditor. It is the intent of the Park Board to continue drawing up policy statements to back up the theory applied in the agreement.

The Board also passed a motion to place a ceiling of $1,500 on the fee paid the District's attorney. Once the ceiling has been reached the Chairman has the authority to approve additional expenditures if warranted. This ruling was made in consideration of the expenditure of public funds.

A special meeting has been called for Wednesday, July 22 at 7:30 pm, to discuss the establishment of the 1988 user fee schedule.

Who won the ice cream sodas???

In the last issue of the NEWS, we had a little contest for our readers twelve and under, in which the first five youngsters to call us would win a FREE ICE CREAM SODA at the new Ice Cream Shoppe in Key Center.

Of course, we had lots of callers from the moment the paper came out, but the very first five were: Renada Frye of Longbranch, David Leon of Vaughn, Jake Frame of KPN, Gig Harbor, Jessica Sutor of Lakebay, and Jason Halsey of Port Orchard.

Fire District 16 passes quiet 4th: Burn ban lifted with rain

What appeared to be a hot, dry condition, causing concern for Fire District 16 Firefighters, turned out to be more of a cool, muggy, weather situation over the Fourth of July, making things easier for the department.

There were only six "runs" on July 4, and no fireworks-related injuries this year on the Peninsula. During the period of July 1 through July 5 there were 25 total calls, including 12 for medical aid of some type, 9 fire calls, 1 auto accident and 4 service calls. Bee stings and illegal burning on the Purdy Spit accounted for a large percentage of these calls.

The department has reported that a number of "wandering objects", such as trees, poles, posts, and ditches, all claimed cars in recent weeks. Also, there have been 3 motorcycle accidents, and all drivers are reminded that motorcycles are hard to see and require particular watchfulness.

During the entire month of June, Fire District 16 responded to a total of 82 calls, including 57 for medical aid, 19 fire calls, 9 automobile accidents, and 2 service calls. Some of the aid calls resulted from residents and others injured in falls.

An outdoor burning ban, which had been in effect from the first of the month, was lifted on July 9. Residents are reminded that summer burning rules, published in the July 1 issue of the NEWS, are in effect and must be observed.

PUMA trio

An informal preview of the PUMA Trio Concert will be held at the American Gallery of Quilt and Textile Arts, Gig Harbor, on Thursday, July 23 from 1-2 pm.

Rodney Ash, Paul Todd and Deborah Yamak will discuss their instruments and the compositions they will perform at the chamber concert on July 24. The community is invited. There is no charge.

Can Chiropractic Help You?

If you have a health problem, we invite you to make an appointment for a free spinal examination. These screening tests are performed as a public service, at no cost to you, to determine whether your health problem is likely to respond to chiropractic care.

These screening tests require approximately 15-30 minutes and are simple and painless. The doctor will discuss the results of the examination with you and advise you whether or not additional chiropractic services may be of benefit to you.

There's no charge for the screening test; however, if additional services are indicated and you choose to go ahead... all fees and services will be fully explained prior to any such services being rendered. Remember, most insurance covers chiropractic services.

We hope you always enjoy good health, but should health problems develop, remember this invitation to find out if chiropractic may be the answer.

FREE SPINAL EXAMINATION

VFW members Nat Knox and Judy Wilson tended the sales counter for a shift at the VFW-KPCCA Fireworks stand in downtown Key Center just before the Fourth of July. Sales this year were quite good, and the Fire Department reported that the local area came through without any fireworks-related mishaps.

Fireworks sale goes well, VFW, KPCCA split the proceeds

Even though the Fourth of July turned out to be a bit on the damp side, the sale of fireworks went quite well this year, according to the sponsoring organizations, the VFW(Post 490) and the Civic Center Association.

Al Champlain, who headed the fireworks sale from the booth in Key Center, stated that about $8000 of display items were sold, with the profits being split between the two organizations.

Champlain especially made a point of thanking the many volunteers who manned the booth during the six-day sale period, including those who gave up good nights' sleep to stay in a near-by trailer and watch over the safety of the operation. "Without our volunteers," he said, "we would not have had a sale - it just would not have been possible."

KPBA NEWS

by Mary Ann Huntington

Without hesitation the Key Peninsula Business Association has taken on its largest project to date Pioneer Day! When the KPBA found out the popular celebration was to be cancelled, we knew there would be many disappointed people, so it was decided to keep the ten-year festival going by organizing it ourselves. A project this size is usually in the planning stages for the whole year, but we only have until August 8.

The emphasis will be on having fun in the country, and local merchants plan to dress in Western wear the week before. Watch for donation cans to be on merchants' counters and don't leave without dropping in a dollar.

Parade entries are needed. Call Shirley Frame 884-4864 if you have an old car to show off, a cute animal (maybe in costume), or anything else that is a good excuse to get into the parade.

Wendy Wakeling 851-2008 is in charge of display booths. Do you have some farmers' market items to sell, paintings, pottery, food or whatever? It's not too late to call Wendy to reserve a spot. Souvenir T-shirts and buttons will also be available.

We can't have a community function without community support. Don't miss out on all the fun and excitement. Call Chairman Karen Todhunter 884-4403 if you want to help. This is a big job Karen has accepted and she can use help of all kinds.

Get ready to put on your dancing shoes, because we are going to have a hoe-down on August 8!!!

SELL IT, BUY IT, TRADE IT, OR JUST GET RID OF IT with a Classified Ad in the NEWS!

Altrusa Club elects new members

The Altrusa Club of Gig Harbor, which includes several members from the Key Peninsula area, recently installed new officers for the 1987-88 year, the fifth in the club's history.

Incoming president is Jean Linsey, administrative assistant to Peninsula Superintendent of Schools Tom Hulst. Other officers will be JoAnn Morford, past president; Lois Peyton, first vice president; Cindy Culy, second vice president; Ellen Dunn, recording secretary; Donna Gavin, corresponding secretary; Marjorie Colson, treasurer, and Jill Johnson and Fran Nicholson, directors.

The Altrusa Club includes many women from business and the professions, and "is primarily interested in supporting community needs which otherwise would not be met," according to new president Jean Linsey.

"Pops" Concert

An outdoor family "Pops" concert will be held at Celebrations Meadow in Gig Harbor on Thursday, July 30 at 7 pm.

There is no charge to the community for this event, which is sponsored jointly by PUMA and local merchants.

Fisher, Lusby show in July at Burley Galleria

Helga Fischer, Gig Harbor china painter, and Dorothy Bouvia Lusby, Burley oil painter, are the featured artists displaying at Burley Galleria through the month of July.

The World Organization of China Painters recognized Helga Fischer's outstanding merit by awarding her the First Place ribbon in competition among some 200 china painters from Washington State. Her winning entry is on permanent display at the organization's museum of international china painters in Oklahoma. Fischer's work includes a variety of patterns and styles, reflecting her versatility. She prefers painting in the intricate style of Imari, an art form originated in Japan and copied in China and England. The tantalizing beauty of Imari is achieved by meticulously reproducing traditional patterns and embellishing them with many coats of luster and gold. The art demands skill, precision and patience few painters attain with any measure of excellence. Along with her china, Fischer's exquisite, hand-painted jewelry is displayed.

Gracing the walls of Burley Galleria's main exhibit hall are the oil paintings of Dorothy Bouvia Lusby, a retired Peninsula High School English teacher. Lusby's work focuses upon the many faces of Washington State; its mountains, waters, rustic scenes and flowers. Her art has been seen at the Tacoma Little Theatre, Tacoma General Hospital, The Gallery in Bremerton, Allenmore Hospital, and enhancing the homes of discriminating collectors.

Burley Galleria is open seven days, weekly, from 11:30 am to 4:30 pm, also Wednesday evenings to 7. There is no admission fee to the Gallery. All work displayed is offered for sale. Burley Galleria is located in downtown Burley, at 14820 Bethel-Burley Road. Phone: 857-7479.

The Ice Cream Shoppe opened up in Key Center on July 3, and the very first customer was Brett Knisely, 2, who seemed to be overawed with an ice cream cone almost as big as he was. He is being held by his father, Mark, while his mother, Cindy, watched from close by. Chuck Haywood dished up the big cone, and then Brett took his parents home to Longbranch. Shortly afterward, John Vandebrook of Vaughn made good his promise "to be the first paying customer." KP NEWS photo

Obituaries

It is with deep regret that we report the passing of Key Peninsula friends and neighbors.....

C. Albert Carlson, age 76, a resident of Home since 1952, died at a Tacoma area hospital on July 1, after a sudden illness at his residence. He was a retired cattle rancher.

He is survived by his wife, Mary, of the home; a son, David Carlson, of Gig Harbor; a daughter, Margo Danforth, of Lakebay; two sisters, Dorothy Lagerstrom and Evelyn Staaf, both of Seattle; five grandchildren, two stepgrandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Memorial services were held Monday, July 6, at Haven of Rest at Gig Harbor. Memorials may be made to Fire District 16, Lakebay, WA 98349.

Robert Edwin Janes, Sr., 77, of Wauna, died at his home on July 1. He was retired from Sears, and his hobbies included fishing and golf.

He is survived by his wife, Yvonne; a son, Robert E. Janes, Jr.; two daughters, Katherine Uddenberg and Nancy Luxtrum, and eight grandchildren.

At his request, no services were held.

Mini Vacation Bible School

Exciting things are happening with the Longbranch Community Church Sunday School. Julie Coldeen, Sunday School Superintendent, announced a mini Vacation Bible School for preschool thru age 12 starting July 23 from 10 am to 2 pm. The event, with the theme, "Special to Jesus", will take place at a local beach. Through games, stories, music, and craft projects, children will be introduced to their role as God's children. Parents should bring their children to the church at 9:30 am and plan on providing a sack lunch and piece of fruit (for a fruit salad) for each child. In case of rain, the session will be held in the church. For information and to register your children, please call Julie Coldeen at 884-3063 or Kris Suter at 884-4833. Feel free to register your children at the church on the 23rd.

Plans for the 1987-88 Sunday School year are also underway. Classes are being organized for preschool thru Junior High age groups. "We want to help children develop their roles in God's church and world by applying the age-old Bible messages to today's times," explained Ms. Coldeen. Further details will be released as plans progress.

Vaughn to expand its drain field

The Peninsula School District was scheduled to meet on Monday evening, July 13, and consider a call for bids for the expansion of the septic drainfield at the Vaughn Elementary School.

Power cut off!

Electrical power was cut off for residents of the lower Key Peninsula on Saturday evening, July 11, when a car struck a pole on Key Peninsula Hiway South, just south of the Whitman Cove Road intersection.

The accident occurred at 8:25 pm, and Peninsula light crews restored power almost exactly 2 hours later.

Response was by ambulance and aid crews of Fire District 16. The driver, a female, reportedly suffered only minor injuries.

Seniors set speaker for July 16

Rena Spencer, who taught in Washington schools for a total of 31 years, 23 of which were spent in the Key Peninsula area, will be the featured speaker at the July 16 meeting of the Key Peninsula Senior Society. She will relate the story of her experiences in the schools over that period of time.

The Senior Society meets at the Civic Center in Vaughn each Thursday at noon for a potluck luncheon and program or activity. All seniors are welcome and invited to participate.

Altrusa holds Golf Tourney

The Altrusa Club of Gig Harbor is holding its annual Golf Tournament, Dinner and Auction August 22 at Madrona Links. The fun begins with tee off at 11 am. A delicious dinner and fun auction follow the completion of the tournament.

The yearly event benefits the Altrusa Club's Scholarship Fund which awards two $500 scholarships to each High School and a $250 to Henderson Bay Alternative High School.

Tickets for golf and dinner are $27 per person, dinner only is $15. To purchase tickets please contact Cherie Mastro, DJ's Mini Mart 857-5712, Daphne Daus 884-3503 or Avon Gay 851-4986.

PUMA's 2nd Musical Summer Concert

The second concert in Peninsula United Music Association's, "A Musical Summer with Puma," will feature The PUMA Trio. Artists are Rodney Ash, piano; Paul Todd, violin; Deborah Yamak, cello.

The PUMA Trio will perform Shostakovich's Trio in E minor, Op.67; Debussy's Violin Sonata in G minor; and Schubert's Trio in B-flat major, Op.99 on Friday, July 24, at 8 pm, at Peninsula High School.

Trouble-free fireworks delight 4th's viewers

by Hugh McMillan

The Fifth Annual all-Key Peninsula community 4th of July fireworks' spectacular on Von Geldern Cove was a great success. The waters were filled with all sorts of power and sailing craft that came from far and wide to share our fun and spend the night afloat, and the orderly spectators, many of whom came as whole family groups, filled "A" Street in Home despite the threat of a repeat of the day's earlier downpour.

Many thanks are due career firefighter Chuck West who voluntarily organized the event, arranged for the "porta-potties," refuse containers, and the blocking of "A" Street to other than emergency vehicles. According to firefighter West, the fund drive produced almost $2,500, "and that will help a great deal to get started on our 'dry hydrant' project." The "firecracker" collection box at Macon Bacon weighed 21.2 pounds when picked up. "It was so full of money," said Walt White, "that you couldn't get another penny inside; we just laid coins on its top."

The real heroes of the event were the five volunteers who fired into the darkening skies the colorful pyrotechnics which thrilled young and old alike. We owe our gratitude to Key Peninsula Firefighters' Association members Rick Olsen, Karl Bonn, and Rick Stout, and to Kevin Dieckman and Mike White (the latter four being, coincidentally, members of the Key Peninsula Lions' Club), for handling the risky, smelly, sweaty business of bringing such beauty to Independence Day. "You could hear the 'ooohs and aaahs' from one side of the Bay to the other," one smiling youngster exclaimed.

These five volunteers must perform as paid employees of the firm from which we purchase the fireworks. Otherwise, the very hefty insurance provided by the firm would be invalidated. Although these volunteers are paid ten percent of the total price of the fireworks, they never see a penny of that $250.00; they donate it in advance to the Key Peninsula Firefighters' Association's fund drive for special equipment. We are proud that these wonderful volunteers are a valuable part of our community. Many thanks Rick, Karl, Rick, Kevin, and Mike!

This year, in large measure thanks to the presence of Pierce County Sheriff's Deputies Sam Larsen and Ed Troyer, there were no reports of trouble caused by that miniscule group of miscreants who have blighted some of our past shows. "They were there," said one Home resident, "but the Sheriff's presence kept them in line. We had a totally trouble-free 4th." Having Home's "A" Street blocked off to vehicular traffic provided a much safer and larger viewing area.

Another Home citizen said, "I wasn't really in favor of having the fireworks' show because of all the mess left by viewers and the threatening behavior of a few trouble-makers, but now, I'm a real supporter; this year's show was just great! Most of the viewers brought plastic bags and cleaned up their spent fireworks and litter and carried it away with them."

The day following the show, teams of neighbors from both sides of the Bay, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts, and members of the Key Peninsula Lions' Club spent very little time cleaning up the almost non-existent litter. "Everybody behaved so responsibly; it was almost like the movie 'State Fair' where everyone was happy, friendly, respectful and tidy," said one of the clean-up crew, "it was just wonderful."

The Key Peninsula Firefighters' Association notes that thanks are due the Key Peninsula News and the Peninsula Gateway both of which gave the event excellent advance coverage, successfully encouraging spectators to behave in the responsible fashion with which this year's 4th of July celebration was characterized. The Association also wishes to express its gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Anonymous and to all of the people of the Key Peninsula community.

We have free baseball tickets for you (again)!

Through the kindness of a donor, the NEWS has two sets of two (each tickets to TACOMA TIGERS BASEBALL for Thursday night, July 30, when the TIGERS will play VANCOUVER. A set will be given to the first two individuals who call us at 884-4699 and give us the correct answer to this month's question, "What was the name of 'Dizzy' Dean's brother, who also pitched in the major leagues in the 1930's?" Be sure to give our answering machine your name, address, and telephone number, and the day and time you called. Good luck!

Let's get it right for Sylvia!

In the July 1, 1987 issue, in the display advertising for Sylvia's Styling and Tanning Salon, we inadvertently carried an ad stating that 20% would be offered off the regular price off a $40 permanent. Correct advertising for the month should have offered a 20% discount off any color service, including Jazzing, Glossing, Henna, Loving Care, Frost, Tint, Bleach, and Luminize. This 20% discount on any color service is the special that Sylvia is offering during the month of July. We regret the error and any inconvenience it may have caused.
