NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS FROM WAUNA TO LONGBRANCH September 1979 VOLUME V, Issue no.9

FIRE DISTRICT ELECTION

Fire District #16 covers the Key Peninsula from Longbranch to the Purdy Sandspit, and to the Kitsap and Mason County lines.

Within this district, four residents are candidates for the open position of Fire Commissioner.

Maxine Wilson, Longbranch, has been a volunteer fire-fighter for six years and on the ambulance crew for five years. She is the secretary at Evergreen Elementary school.

Sherlie Marietta, Longbranch, has been in business in Key Center for fifteen years and is a strong supporter of the fire and ambulance crews. She has been active in other community groups, too; ambulance committee, Health clinic, Orthopedic Guild, and the Longbranch Improvement Club.

Les McGaw of Home, was Fire Chief of Pierce County Fire District #3 in University Place in Tacoma for 25 years and is now retired. He was Fire Commissioner of that district for 1½ years until he moved to this area. He was secretary of Fire District #16 for two years and assistant Fire Chief for four years.

Art Fenton, Minter Area resident, works at the Navy Yard but has been a volunteer for District #16 for many years. He was assistant Fire Chief and is now the Battalion Chief at Station #1 by the Fruit Stand.

You will see these names on the ballot of the Primary election taking place on Tuesday, September 18. Our fire and ambulance service is vital to our community so remember to vote for this important position.

Help us celebrate our Dad's (DAVE DADISMAN'S) 90th birthday at the Longbranch Church annex. Sat., Oct. 6, 2-5p.m. Chet and Budge Dadisman and Evelyn Evans

Donna Grace Cole-Wallen, will be attending Stanford University in the Fall as a winner of a 4-year scholarship. Donna is from Vaughn.

STANFORD SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED

Donna Grace Cole-Wallen of Vaughn will be attending Stanford University in Palo Alto, California as the recipient of an academic scholarship from the school.

A June graduate of the Annie Wright School in Tacoma, Donna is a member of the National Honor Society and was active in student leadership, holding the office of student body secretary treasurer and business manager of the yearbook. She also served on the A.W.S. Task and Service League.

Her primary interests are political science, economics, and theater arts. Donna will enter Stanford this fall and plans to pursue a career in Law. Donna is the daughter of Ms. Penny Wallen of Vaughn.

SCHOOLS OPEN SEPT. 5TH

There will be many changes evident when the new school year starts this month. Peninsula High School will be housing half as many students, but the senior class of '80 will stay together there. All 7th grade students will attend Goodman Middle School but half of the eighth grade will be at Goodman High School.

Dr. Gene Peters, School Superintendent, is anxious for Vaughn parents to know that the school district and contractor have done all they could toward opening the scheduled 10 new classrooms at Vaughn, but the building permits have been held up in Pierce County Offices. The new addition to the school is all constructed in Portland, Oregon, sitting in a warehouse awaiting clearance of the permits so it can be shipped up. As soon as the permits are obtained, a cement foundation will be poured and electrical and plumbing connections completed so the building can be erected. Dr. Peters is hopeful that the new addition will be open November 1st.

In the meantime, space for four of these classrooms has been found outside Vaughn as temporary quarters, at the Civic Center and Evergreen school. Several of the ten new classrooms will be used as resource rooms, such as the library, band room, etc.

Evergreen has a new gym and the old gym has been converted to three classrooms, including a new library with a new collection of books. Both schools will share a counselor to help students and parents with problems arising in the school population of 190 students at Evergreen and 425 at Vaughn. There are new playgrounds at both schools, plus a new required water storage system at Vaughn.

The areas surrounding Peninsula High School have been renovated. There is a new baseball field which will also serve as a playground for Discovery Elementary School, and the old football field is now surrounded by a new track of regulation size. New field lighting has been installed that gives 60% more light for much less energy with innovative fixtures.

There is also a new gym between the high school and elementary school which they will share at different times for PE classes but not for spectator sports.

Parking lots at the high school have been paved for community, staff, and student parking which will be much safer for school hours and school events for visitors. The high school itself has a fine staff and curriculum but the building desperately needs a major renovation when funds become available. The dollars presently spent for school improvements were done in a way to give the most improvements for the most students, rather than spent all on one project, and as taxpayers look at the schools now they will see that they received good dollar value for their tax money.

Our Pres Sez...

By Bob Schottland

After such a successful event as "Pioneer Day" there are few words which will adequately describe the hard work, preparation and wholehearted effort of so many wonderful and co-operative people.

It will soon be time to select a nominating committee to elect new board members for next year. This is a great opportunity for those people, both old and new to the peninsula, to participate as an active member of the Board. This will be a real challenge for anyone who is truly interested in serving the community, continuing creative programs and enjoying the social, cultural, and educational programs which the Civic Center can and does provide for peninsula people.

If you have the qualifications of dedication, persistence, responsibility, creativity, business management and a willingness to serve, we need you.

Our next big event will be the Annual Salmon Derby on Sunday, September 16. The prizes have been changed to encourage more participation and to distribute more prizes to more winners. Children and ladies are welcome to come and try their hand at landing a big one! Awards will be presented at 5 p.m. at the Civic Center. Tickets are available at local merchants, marinas and the Civic Center. Get yours now!

Any resident of the peninsula who has suggestions to make regarding the operation, maintenance or activities conducted at the Center, should feel free to contact any officer or Board member anytime. We can only be as effective as the people we represent. Your ideas as well as your physical help are always important to the successful operation of the Center.

Running the Civic Center is becoming more difficult than it used to be. We are no longer a small, isolated, remote community as we were just 5 short years ago. With growth in the population, it is essential for new-comers to assume their full share of the responsibility. Please volunteer when you are asked to serve.

K. P. C. C. ANNUAL SALMON DERBY SET FOR SEPT. 16

Tom Van Slyke, Vice-President and Chairman of the 1979 Key Peninsula Civic Center "Salmon Derby" has announced that tickets will be available immediately at the following places:

Nancy's Nic Nacs, Jerry's Cafe, Walt's Fine Foods, Key Western Building Center, and Tom's Barber and Tackle Shop. The marinas at Glen Cove, Lakebay, Longbranch, Vaughn and Fairharbor will also have them.

Tom says, "We have made more prize money available this year, so that everyone will have more chances to win."

Official rules are available when you purchase a ticket and will be strictly enforced, Tom added.

Hot food and snacks will be available at the Center from 2 to 6 p.m.

Little by LITTLE

Recently when looking over some old books I've collected over the years, I discovered a remarkable little volume published in 1882, called Graded Instruction in English by Orville Wright. Although this tiny 4" x 6" book has only 80 pages, it contains a treasure-trove of English lessons to be taught from grade one through grade eight. As I glanced through the book, I noticed in grade 3 the topic: Use of adjectives after the verbs look, seem, appear, feel, taste and smell. 'I feel bad' --not 'I feel badly,' which we hear daily on TV said by persons who should know better. Listen for it.

While on the subject of mistakes in English that old bug bear 'lie' and 'lay' has come up again. A friend who has started taking physical therapy suggests that one of the first things taught in the course should be 'Please lie down.' She insists that the therapists, with few exceptions, say 'Please lay down.' She's probably right; I've noticed that many nurses in doctor's offices have the patients 'lay down.' I often secretly wonder if they are as careless with the work they are doing as they are with their English.

Lately I've been re-reading the two outstanding articles on energy by Barry Commoner, published in the New Yorker magazine last April. Technically they are supposed to be written for the layman and some of the data is fairly difficult but he is eminently qualified to explain the complex problems involved in the energy question and if I can grasp it, you can. Every intelligent person (and that means you!) should be compelled to read these articles before going around 'sounding off' about what the congress or what the president should do about energy.

Mr. Commoner, along with most other reputable scientists, is in favor of giving solar energy a fair shake and by solar energy he means development of photovoltaic systems, utilizing heat from solar collectors windmills (once a familiar part of our rural landscape) for direct heating of water and buildings and the least - developed and probably the oldest form of solar energy, using the organic matter, (biomass) produced photosynthetically from green plants to make gaseous and liquid fuels necessary for airplanes and heavy equipment. It's an exciting article; the many wonderful possibilities right in our midst that we've been ignoring for years. Call the library to order April 23rd and 30th issues of the New Yorker. (All information carefully checked for facts and never a mistake in English.)

Here it is time for school to re-open; when I talk to boys and girls entering high school, especially from other districts, I urge them to take advantage of Peninsula's superior music department and to enroll in one of the choral groups offered. The music at both Goodman and Peninsula would rank right up at the top compared to any high school or junior high school - I mean it - any school - any place.

NEW LIBRARY DESIGNED

A joint committee representing Pierce County Library and the Key Center Health Clinic has selected John V. Austin of Tacoma to design the Key Center Library/Health Clinic Complex. Austin was chosen by the six member committee from among 9 area architects interested in the project.

According to Denise Johnson of Pierce County Library, the building is scheduled for construction during 1980-81 through a $500,000 HUD Community Development Block Grant. It will be located at the south side of the fire station on land purchased by the library from Ken Brones of Key Center for this purpose.

Austin's designs include over 100 churches, several fire stations, the Departments of Nursing and Fine Arts at Pacific Lutheran University, the Parkland Library interior, and the Steilacoom Community Center, another HUD project. His designs range from the imposing angular structures of large bank branches to a more residential quality in smaller public buildings. Of his interest in the Key Center project in particular he said, "A small building gives the opportunity to express good design."

Very active in community affairs and citizen committees, Austin was 6 years a member and 3 years chairman of the Pierce County Planning Commission and is a former chairman of the Tacoma-Pierce County Civic Arts Commission.

NEW CHILD CARE PROGRAM NOW AVAILABLE AT VAUGHN & EVERGREEN

Peninsula Child Care is proud to announce that Before and After School Care is available to parents of students in each of the schools in the Peninsula District. "A pilot program at Purdy Elementary last year was so successful that it developed into a full-fledged program," stated Bev Ireland, PCCA's Board President.

Registration for Vaughn and Evergreen students will be held at Vaughn Elementary on August 28, 29, and 30, between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. However, if parents are unable to do so at that time, registration information may be obtained by calling the Peninsula Child Care Centers at Arletta or Gig Harbor.

Diane Olson, administrator for the Association, reported that the Board was extremely pleased to obtain the services of Mrs. Phyllis Graham to coordinate the total program this year. Phyllis will be on site at Vaughn Elementary starting September 4 and is excited with her new duties. Being a resident of the Key Peninsula area, she is also eager to meet students and parents whom she has not yet met.

Briefly, the Before and After School Program offers quality and caring services to area children from 6:30 a.m. until school starts and after school until 6:30 p.m. Parents will also be able to depend on the program to provide care during early dismissal and conference times at no extra fee.

Snacks are provided and a breakfast program is available at each center. Reduced rates are available to those who are eligible.

HELP, HELP, HELP

THE PENINSULA PIONEER 4-H CLUB desperately needs adult leadership. Would YOU volunteer to step into the position of leading the BEST 4-H Club in the State????

The Peninsula Pioneers were formed 11 years ago with 5 members and climbed to a total membership of 22 active members. Adult leaders the first year were Dick Godwin and Juanita Saathoff. The second year and for five additional years Mrs. Saathoff shared leadership duties with Barbara Russell. Recently assistant leaders have been Mr. or Mrs. Jeff Kapphahn and Pam Baldwin.

Mrs. Saathoff who is a salesperson at the Key Center Branch of Shorewood Real Estate, Inc. says that because of her limited time, she is no longer leading the club to the best interest of the members.

Club president, Tony Brooks, is an outstanding junior leader. "I am eager", Mrs. Saathoff says, "to continue in an advisory capacity for as long as the club needs me."

Former adult leaders of the club proudly point out the fact that those youngsters who have had a 4-H background have learned responsibility to themselves, their families and their community. It has been most rewarding, Mrs. Saathoff said, to work with and to get to really know these youngsters.

The Peninsula Pioneers is basically a dairy goat club although a few youngsters have market lamb projects. It is not necessary for the leader to know these projects as there are reams of research material and many resource people willing to help the 4-H program.

During it's 11 year history, The Peninsula Pioneer 4-H Club has won local, county and state awards in the areas of record book keeping, secretary's book, champion herdsmanship, champion animals and showman championships. For three years, they were the moving force behind the Spring Dairy Goat Show held in connection with the Kitsap Junior Spring Dairy Show. Approximately 90 youngsters from 6 counties participated each year.

Wouldn't you be proud to be associated, as leader, with this outstanding club? Please call Juanita Saathoff at either 884-3303 or 884-2635.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

During primary elections on Tuesday, September 18, you will have a chance to vote for school board directors for districts 1 and 3.

Walt Smith, Board President and Key Center resident, seeks re-election in District 1, on the basis of his proven record of action for education. He urges people to observe the progress made in the district under the direction of the present board.

He is opposed by John Grinols, of Minter area, who wants to see some young blood on the board. He is an electrical designer for the Navy yard. He is interested in some changes in the curriculum and sports department. He wants to look closely at problems and consider all alternatives to produce solutions.

LETTER TO THE COMMUNITY.....

Dear Supporters:

The Key Peninsula Friends of the Library group sincerely want to thank all those who supported our recent book sale and silent auction through donations and purchases.

This was a successful venture to raise money to furnish the future Library building to be built next year in Key Center next to the Fire Station. It was the first of many upcoming projects to continue to add to our furnishings fund.

Thank you again.

DOLORES NICHOLAI OPERATES

Coffee Break Press recently purchased a new offset press. "We can now offer full printing service to the lower Peninsula as well as the Purdy-Burley area," reported Dolores Nicolai, owner. "Although we will specialize in book publishing, there will be many days when the press will be idle and we'd be delighted to work with the local business and private communities."

A few of the services they offer are: layout, artwork, printing, bulk mailing, folding, stapling, binding, design, pick-up and delivery.

"The Coffee Break staff strives toward quality work. We are not a quick copy press but will comply with the occasional need for same day service. The important factor which sets us apart from other printers is that we are willing to work with the smallest and most complicated jobs. We are equally willing to help design a Christmas letter, personalized card, family cookbook or an advertising brochure. One of our artists even silk-screens T-shirts. Our motto, 'no job too small,' says a lot about our organization. We also welcome large jobs," Dolores added with a smile.

Coffee Break has come a long way in less than three years. It began as a bi-annual magazine, grew to a quarterly publication and begun publishing books last year.

The press was added for quality control," Dolores said.

HER NEW PRESS

"We also wanted to work with color and try some innovative ideas. The few printers who wanted to take time with our experiments were forced to charge us more than we could afford because experimentation takes time and time is equated with money. Perhaps Coffee Break will take that same attitude one day. Right now, however, we are still enjoying the work enough to put forth a little extra effort."

The Coffee Break press runs at odd hours. It is not unusual for Dolores to run the press all night. "There are two reasons for that," she says. "If I am involved in an interesting job, I don't like to stop. Also, artists from top agencies are moonlighting for Coffee Break and we work when they are available."

"We are trying to build something creative. We know what we are trying to accomplish but are not sure exactly where we are headed. Right now we have a lot of idealistic plans. With any luck at all, we will be able to sustain our enthusiasm indefinitely."

Beginning with the fall issue, Coffee Break will print Coffee Break magazine. The press also expects to have nine books in publication by the end of this year. The most recent release is SELF-HYPNOSIS (a basic manual). The manual is a simplified approach to self-hypnosis which can be learned in a few hours. Today hypnosis is so popular, people are spending $20. to $150. per tape to gain habit control or $35. to $60. per visit, to enlist the aid of a hypnotist. According to author, C.F. Freimuth, SELF-HYPNOSIS can safely show you how simple it is to hypnotize yourself and control your habits in the privacy of your own home. The manuals are available through Coffee Break at a cost of $9.95.

Persons interested in preparing a special Christmas letter for reproduction are encouraged to contact a printer before the fall rush begins. The Coffee Break staff will gladly help you in any way it can.

EXCITING, DARING TRIP

Groups of bald-headed eagles fly overhead, fish fight to get on your line and the air is so fresh it makes you happy just to be breathing.

According to two young adventurers, this setting is what to expect while canoeing down the Yukon River in Northern Canada.

Former Peninsula High School students, Scott Beal, 21, and George Lee, 19, recently completed the 523-mile river trip from Johnson's Crossing to the old gold-boom town, Dawson.

Along with a group of modern-day pioneers including Dick and Marge Radonich, Longbranch; Dave Biddison and Ken Sletter, Bremerton; Kay Weldon, Poulsbo; Claude and Maurita Lee, Bay Lake; and Wayne Anderson, from North Dakota; Scott and George fought the Yukon River for eleven days.

The only incident on the trip occurred while the two young men were paddling their way through the section of river known as the Five-Finger Rapids.

"We had the canoe loaded with our supplies and the waves just kept coming over the canoe," George explained. "I told Scott to start bailing but he didn't have anything to bail with. Eventually the canoe sank."

"We stayed with the canoe as it went down river and were towed into land by some moose hunters who had been watching us go through the rapids," Scott said.

Despite the close call, both men agree that the trip could be made by anyone with some basic knowledge of canoeing.

Due to good planning by George's father, Claude, this trip by-passed many potential problems. The elder Lee had been planning the journey and gathering information about the Yukon River for over a year.

"He probably knew more about the river than the people living along it," George laughed.

The two outdoorsmen will be going their separate ways this fall. George is planning to attend Walla Walla Community College and Scott is looking for work in the local area. However, they are hoping to get together again next year and either tackle the Yukon River or try some other white water.

by VALDA YOUNG

September is the month the bulb catalogues arrive and the local nurseries have their bins filled with a wide assortment of fresh bulbs.

It is wise to purchase locally since so many are grown nearby. Puyallup and the Bellingham area are famous for the bulbs they grow, and many of the worlds top hybridizers work in this state.

I do use catalogues for some of the rare bulbs and new varieties distributed by other growers.

So many people think of daffodils only in terms of the big yellow trumpet "King Arthur" but the list of varieties runs into the hundreds. They are, by the way, Narcissus, and come in all combinations of yellow, cream, white and pink. They have long trumpets, short ones, ruffled, double splits and fluted. Some are huge, others tiny.

One can have an entire garden of the lovely blooms from February to May.

They do not mind our wet soil as do so many bulbs. The chief pests are slugs and a Narcissus fly which is seldom a problem if you buy good bulbs.

They need lifting every three to five years. A single bulb will by then have multiplied so you have a tightly packed clump that cannot possibly find enough nourishment to produce bloom.

If you have such a planting it is not too late to lift them, but do it now. Separate the bulbs, work your soil well, fertilize lightly. Bone meal or sulfurphosphate is enough. Replant your bulbs at least six inches deep.

Never cut off the leaves after they bloom before they have turned completely brown. It is those green leaves which nourish the new bulb and provide next year's bloom.

If you are planting a new bed do it as soon as the bulbs come into the markets. They get a good start at growing in the fall and even a hard winter freeze does not hurt them.

Next month I will discuss other bulbs. It is too early to plant many of them now.

If you are ambitious and want to grow your own perennials now is the time to plant your seeds. A protected area, covered with cheesecloth to keep birds from eating the seeds and to prevent hard rains from working them away helps to get a good germination. Leave them out all winter.

The Achievement Center at Purdy offers Day Care and Pre-school for children 18 months through 12 years. It is open from 6:30 am. until 6:30 pm. and is licensed by the State for 52 children. Beautiful facilities, certified teachers, creative educational program, four parklike acres including a fenced playground with BIG TOY equipment. "We've got it all!" says Mary Quinlan, the coordinator.

There are reasonable hourly, daily, or monthly rates. Visitors are welcome any time. The Center is located on the Burley Lagoon at 15517 Goodrich Drive N.W. For further information call 857-6545 or 1-565-3030.

LOCAL AUTHOR & ARTIST

Friends of the Key Peninsula Library are sponsoring a complimentary program featuring Cora and Corwin Chase, Vaughn's local author and artist, on Wednesday, September 12th at 8:00 pm. in the VFW room at the Civic Center.

The Chases will relate their experiences and impressions aboard the Saga Fjord, a Norwegian-American ship on a literary cruise of the Caribbean Islands.

Publishers and authors aboard discussed books and the processes involved in getting them published. Cora will also have her own books available and Corwin will show slides from the trip.

The public is welcome and refreshments will be served following the program.

It's "back-to-school" time again. IN addition to all the school shopping don't forget the school and sports physicals. The last minute rush is upon us but don't despair--appointments for these physicals are easily made at the Key Peninsula Clinic. For your convenience, we are open Monday nights until 8:00 pm.

For many, fall weather and the return of children to school reminds us of our own health needs and the long winter months ahead. Get checked out yourself by having a complete physical.

Along the lines of health maintenance the KPHC offers a complete line of laboratory and EKG services. If you need routine or periodic lab work these services can save you much time and gas in your busy fall schedule.

Dr. Chris Miller is offering his services as a physician at the Clinic on Tuesdays from 2:00-:00 pm. If you wish to make an appointment with Dr. Miller, please call ahead.

As part of the Clinic's endeavor to provide health services to the Key Peninsula area, a very important decision has been reached. It has become clear to the staff and board that the community could be much better served by a location in or near Key Center. Therefore, it has been resolved to make a move to this location by January 1, 1980. We are pleased and excited about his decision.

Starting in October, the Children's Health Assessment Program "Well Child Clinic" will be held on the first Tuesday, October 4th. Services for children seen on this day will be charged on a sliding fee schedule. Call for an appointment.

Thanks again to the community participants in the potluck dinner that was held on August 15th in honor of Jeanne Brodsack. She is leaving the clinic in search of new horizons and bestows her good wishes on the years to come for the clinic. We again thank Jeanne, too, for her years of devotion and nurturing she has given the Clinic.

Summer is the time for hornets and yellowjackets. The news tells of people being "attacked", and "bitten". Even a doctor columnist wrote of "bee bites." Wrong end, doctor, they sting.

Alertness is important; see or hear them first. I destroyed 30 in the ground yellowjacket nests one summer on a half acre, without getting stung once. Because it was a dry spring, the nests were in the ground. Had it been wet, they would have been in the bushes and trees. They will always nest under eaves and in open attics and outbuildings. They cannot stand prolonged rain, especially when ground nesting.

If you are attacked, you have trampled or agitated a ne nest. Hornets and yellowjackets are peaceful if their home is not endangered, except you may be accidentally run into by one, if you are walking in his aerial highway, corner him, or maybe try to eat him. He likes jelly, jam, fish and meat, the same as you do, so look at it.

Tying pantlegs around shoetops is insurance against ground nesting stings, "You Know Where." Sharp ears and eyes are important. The instant you hear that humming roar, MOVE, no matter what your brother-in-law says. The stinging devils circle closely around the nest at first. Your object is to get away, FAST.

Running through brush, turning sharply, then stopping dead still may lose most of them. If you get stuck, do not move a muscle, or even blink, and breathe slowly and pray quietly.

Once found, a nest should always be destroyed. Hornet and wasp spray will do it, from a safe distance, preferably at night, when they are all home and quiet. Live nests will produce breeding queens and more nests, all summer. Sure they catch a few little bugs. If you like yellowjackets and hornets better than bugs, then leave them alone for your wife to walk into. (See the lady run, listen to her yell.)

ATTENTION--SENIOR CITIZENS

Don McDonald of Longbranch is interested in starting a Senior Citizen's group on the Key Peninsula. He has been interested for several years in the welfare of senior citizens and feels the most good can be accomplished through group action.

An organizational meeting to find the interests of the local senior citizens will be held at the Civic Center on Wednesday, September 19 from 2:00 - 4:00 p.m. in the Gold Room. Refreshments will be served. For further information call Don McDonald, 884-3820.

Don was employed by Pierce County as Senior Aid Housing Counselor and is now a member of the Board of Equalization for Taxation for the County.

Don says there are many advantages that local senior citizens are missing by not being organized such as hot meal programs, bus services, entertainment of interest to older people, and the fun of socializing with a group.

He is a member of the National Council of Senior Citizens and would like to see a local affiliate of this organization because its interests range from Federal and State legislation to community action, including health care, housing, employment, social security, crime prevention, nursing home reforms and congressional evaluation.

The National Council of Senior Citizens, founded in 1961, has earned its position as respected advocate for the nation's elderly. Its first president, the late Congressman Aime J. Forand of Rhode Island, was a pioneer spokesman for health insurance for the elderly under Social Security. When he retired from Congress, due to ill health, Forand--with the backing of many church, social welfare, community and labor groups--set up the National Council in order to organize grass-roots support for Medicare.

When Medicare was finally passed in 1965, President Lyndon Johnson said that had it not been for the efforts of NCSC, older Americans would not have had that vital health care program.

In more recent years, NCSC has successfully fought for Social Security's financial stability, senior citizen housing, Supplemental Security Income, the Older Americans Act and numerous other pieces of legislation that benefit older citizens.

NCSC's current President is James Carbray, retired representative of the United Steelworkers. He assumed that position when former NCSC President, Nelson Cruikshank, stepped down to become President Jimmy Carter's Counsellor on Aging and Chairman of the Federal Council on Aging. The National Council's Executive Director is William R. Hutton, a well known advocate of senior citizens' rights.

SUCCESSFUL ARRANGER

Darrell Rodman, formerly of Vaughnand now of Los Angeles has very productive musical talents. He arranged Debbie Boone's hit record, "You Light Up My Life" and has done directing for Tom Nettleton of the Lawrence Welk show.

Darrell works in a variety of musical mediums. He has arranged the background music for a film soon to be released. He also arranged the pieces for a singing group from the Fresno Peoples' Church, recently returned from a world tour. He has also done extensive taping of his music.

TWILIGHT DANCE CLUB

For those of you who are new to the area, we are a dance club that holds a dance at the Civic Center the last Saturday of each month (except August). Sometimes we dress up in costume, like we did in July when we had a country-western theme and danced to the Nor-Westerners.

Sometimes we have a special potluck before the dance like our Octoberfest, when we all brought German dishes.

Coming bands are:

September - Perl's Dance Band

October - Herb Erickson

November - Nor-Westerners

We always have a lovely Christmas dinner-dance for members only and this year the Monty Friel Quartet will play for us on December 8th.

We are a BYOB club with ice, glasses and coffee furnished. Guests are always welcome and attending one of our dances is a very nice way to entertain your friends from out of town.

We limit our membership to 100 couples and we are open for new members at this time. If you are interested in more information please call our treasurer, Kelly Babcock, 884-3405, or our president, Sid Bechard, 884-3759.

He arrived home in time for the wedding of his niece Jenny Rodman, and extended his stay long enough to include Pioneer Day at the Civic Center where he and Mike LaPaglia teamed up on pianos to provide unique outdoor entertainment for the afternoon crowds.

HOME IMPROVEMENT LOANS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

The Farmers Home Administration has loan and grant funds available for rural homeowners to make needed repairs or improvements to their homes.

Eligible low-income families can receive up to $5,000 in a loan, combination loan and grant, or a full grant to remove health hazards.

Loans up to $1,500 must be repaid within 10 years, loans between $1,500 and $2,500 within 15 years, loans over $2,500 within 20 years. The interest rate is one percent.

To be eligible for a combination loan and grant, an applicant must be 62 years or older and able to pay for only a part of the repairs. To receive a full grant, the homeowner must be 62 years or older and unable to pay for any repairs on the house.

Farmers Home Administration emphasizes that the basic objective of the FmHA loan and grant program is to assist owner-occupants in rural areas who do not qualify for Section 502 rural housing loans to repair or improve their dwellings to make such swellings safe and sanitary and remove hazards to the health of the occupants, their families, or the community.

For further information about the program, contact the Pierce County office, whose address is 9404 112th St. E., Puyallup, Washington 98371. The telephone number is 845-0553.

Does your child enjoy painting and doing art and science projects? Does he or she enjoy the company of other children the same age? Most children love all these things including listening to stories, singing songs and playing games.

You and your child can enjoy all of these things together in an exciting cooperative nursery school experience.

Longbranch Cooperative Nursery School is now accepting applications for 2, 3, 4, and 5 year olds for the 1979-80 school year. The nursery school is located at the Longbranch Improvement club and is affiliated with Bates Vocational Technical Institute, the Home and Family Life Department.

For more information regarding hours, tuition, etc. please call Mrs. Fred Ripley at 884-2753 or Mrs. Joe Mercado at 884-3550.

NEW METHOD ANALYZES INDIVIDUAL SUGARS

New research methods can now tell exactly what kinds of sugar are in ready to eat cereals, says Mrs. Olga V. Fuste, Washington State University's Pierce County Extension agent.

U.S. Department of Agriculture chemists found that, as expected, cereal manufacturers added far more table sugar (sucrose) than any other sugar. If lactose was present, it meant that milk, milk chocolate, or milk powder was added during processing. Maltose indicated corn syrup.

Fructose and glucose occur naturally in raisins; cereals with raisins had these sugars at considerably higher levels than cereals without raisins.

Sixty-two cereals were tested. Two contained more than 50% sugar--Sugar Smacks and Apple Jacks. Raisin Bran had 48% sugar but less than one-third came from table sugar; natural sugars in raisins accounted for most of the sweetness.

On the other end of the scale, three cereals contained no detectable sugar except levels of sucrose that occur naturally in grain. These were Shredded Wheat, Puffed Wheat, and Puffed Rice.

Other cereals containing less than 10% total sugars included Concentrate, Total, Wheaties, Rice Krispies, Grape Nuts, Special K, Corn Flakes, Post Toasties, Kix, Rice Chex, Wheat Chex, Corn Chex, and Cheerios (in descending order of sugar content).

Cooperative Extension programs and information are available to all citizens of Pierce County without discrimination.

HAVE A NICE DAY

The stranger walked through the electric door,
The one that said "In", on the "super store"
His heart was light, and he felt of good cheer,
He would buy some food, and a sixpack of beer.
A smile was flashed, she looked real nice,
But the checkout girl's eyes returned only ice!
No friendship there, he thought with chagrin,
And wished he was leaving and not coming in.
Too late to back out, and feeling some blue,
He shopped number one, and then aisle two.
A lady had blocked the turn into three,
So he whistled a tune, on purpose off key.
And grinned as she shook her head with a start,
Then threw in some bread, and left with her cart.
Now feeling much better, having won the round,
He continued his shopping, by the pint and the pound.
Eventually arriving at the end of the line,
His cart was topped off with a quart of red wine.
With feet shuffling slowly, he moved in his place,
To the beautiful girl, with the ice in her face.
Eventually reaching a spot in the line,
Just four feet away, and one cart behind.
And he chanced a slight smile (she did seem nice),
But the face was still stone, and the eyes were still ice.
The the front cart moved on, and it was his turn,
To stop at the scales, and to see the ice burn,
From the now sunny face, that smiled and said "Hi",
So sweet and so friendly, "Oh me, oh my".
So she checked out his cart, and he went on his way,
Bewildered but happy, "Now have a nice day".
