10TH ANNUAL ARTS - CRAFTS FAIR

A double opportunity is coming up for Peninsula residents - a chance for crafts people to sell their wares, a chance for buyers to do their Christmas shopping.

Jane Van Slyke, Chairwoman of the event, says that there will be 40 booths containing a real variety of handmade and novel items: Hand-painted china, totem poles, jewelry, knitted goods, home made baked goodies, holiday decorations, art work, Christmas gifts and many more.

Santa will be there in the afternoon to have his picture taken with you. The Civic Center will be selling refreshments throughout the day.

The doors will be open Saturday, December 6th, from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM. Don't miss this opening event to the holiday season.

YOUR PREZ SEZ:

During the past few weeks I have become more aware of the poor driving habits of many people out here on our Peninsula. I have followed cars and trucks which drove over the center line most of the time. I have met cars on blind curves where accidents would have been a certainty if we had been 20 feet closer. Others have had similar experiences and it would be too bad if we have to have more injuries and fatalities because of our carelessness. This is no longer a completely rural area but a type of suburbia and there is a great deal of traffic on our roads. Please drive more carefully so that we can all enjoy life out here.

A special thanks goes this month to those members of the Board who have served so faithfully in the past years and who are now taking a well-deserved rest. Many Board members put in extra hours that others do not see and we are surely appreciative. We welcome the new Board members and expect that the community will pledge to them continued support and assistance. We look forward to seeing all of the new and old Board members and spouses or dates at our December 11th potluck.

-Marian Wagner

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

I am a resident of Home, Pierce County, and I enjoy walking the roads of our picturesque community. However, when dogs dash out of yards barking, baring their teeth, and nipping at my heels, walking loses its pleasure. Instead, walking becomes a frightening and hazardous experience.

I do not question the right of people to own dogs. (Our family had the same cared-for pet and companion for 17 years). But, with ownership goes responsibility. Common sense dictates that a threatening dog should be confined within a yard and not be allowed to jeopardize and intimidate neighbors. A continuously barking dog is stressful to those living close by, and indicates an unhappy animal. Dogs allowed to run loose, gather in packs, and can cause much damage to property and harm to other animals.

All of the above conditions reflect neglect and an uncaring attitude on the part of owners, not only towards people, but to the animals.

I realize that in these times people are concerned about protection of private property. Law enforcement officers tell us, however, that a small house dog that barks at strangers serves the same purpose as a large, menacing animal. Fences also serve two-fold, they confine the watch dog and discourage intruders.

Neighborhood cooperation in solving community problems is much better than having to pass leash laws which are costly to enforce. Do not deny those of us who walk, jog, and ride bicycles the pleasure of our pursuits. Menacing dogs belong in yards; the roads are for public use paid for by property owners such as myself.

Signed,
Home Resident

Civic Center to Close

This headline is all too close to reality. During the past few months we have seen a gradual decline in numbers of people willing to serve on the board or to help at special events. Our nominating committee has done a great deal of calling and has been unable to find representatives for the Board from the following areas: Lake Holiday, Minter, Wauna, Glen Cove, Jackson Lake and Horseshoe Lake.

We know people are busy but those already serving on the Board are also busy, and more so because you are not helping. There are many young people who use the Center in scouting and 4-H groups or at skating but we see very few parents involved in activities.

Unless we have better participation, our purpose of serving the community could force us to make charges so that each group can pay its own way. When there is a need for persons to serve on a fund-raising committee, we expect that there will be more volunteers. Be sure to show up when there is a work day so that we can do some of our work without having to pay the cost of labor to have it done.

If you can serve or know anyone who can serve please call Shirley Olson at 884-2481.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

All old and new board members and their spouses/dates are expected to be at the Christmas party on December 11th, the regular meeting night, at 7:30 PM. There will be a potluck of salads and finger foods. Gifts will be exchanged so all are to bring a wrapped gift to put under the tree. Be sure to mark if it is for a man or woman. There will be singing and enjoyment of each other's company. Mary Seidelman and Alice Palmer are chairmen of this event.

The New Year's Ball committee asks that we bring our white elephants (unwrapped) to be used at the ball.

Special guests will be the Park Board members and their spouses.

SHOP EARLY - MAIL EARLY

With the Christmas mailing season just ahead, here are some tips from your local Post Offices to make sure your cards and packages arrive in time.

The suggested dates for mailing within the U.S. are December 10 for parcels and December 15 for letters. Make Christmas merrier for those who will receive your gifts! In addition to shopping early, be sure to properly address cards and packages, using zip codes. Wrap parcels properly. Strapping tape is excellent to use. Check the size of your envelopes before mailing. Letter size standards went into effect last year requiring envelopes to be at least 3½ X 5 inches.

Commemorative stamp kits make a unique and welcome gift for practically anyone in the family.

Two Christmas stamps have been issued for use during the 1980 holidays. The Contemporary design shows antique toys on a window sill while the Art Masterpiece stamp depicts a detail from a stained glass window in the Washington Cathedral.

Stamps may be purchased from your rural carrier. Checks are acceptable for postage. The orders will be filled and returned to the customer the day after they are ordered if the carrier cannot fill the order on the spot. During the month of December, please make sure all mail deposited on rural routes has stamps affixed.

If you have a special request regarding the delivery of your packages, just leave a note in your mailbox for the carrier. They'll make every effort to see that all packages are delivered to your convenience.

The VAUGHN, LAKEBAY and LONG-BRANCH POST OFFICES would like to thank you for all your courtesies during the year and wish you all a very HAPPY HOLIDAY SEASON.

Join us for a good time, lots of food and friendship.

To those who are ill we wish a speedy recovery. To those who have lost a loved one we extend our sincere sympathy.

All members of the Post 4990 and Auxiliary wish each and everyone a very happy Holiday season also a good year in 1981. See you on Monday, December 8th.

FOX ISLAND CHRISTMAS

Christmas 1914 was important to a six year old boy. Pa had inside information that Santa Claus might bring us kids a coaster wagon. Our Sears catalog was dogeared from looking. The image of that wagon is still in my mind. A beautiful low wheeler, with a fold back tongue to steer. One knee in the wagon and the other foot kicking, zoom zoom.

Sleep came easily, in spite of some last minute worries about our 8 inch square chimney. Six year olds do not question the laws of physics too much. The main thing was faith. With lots of that, we slept soundly. There were no airplanes, no cars, not even a refrigerator or electric clock to disturb the quietness.

Christmas morning! No time to dress or eat. What was that huge object beneath the Christmas tree, covered with tissue paper? Sure enough, a wagon! Wowee! Then a twinge of horror.. It was a varnished farm style wagon, with high wheels. High in front, still higher in back, with detachable sideboards. What a horrible disappointment. "Just fine", Pa said, "For hauling in wood". His eyes sparkled. He saw beauty that somehow escaped us.

After breakfast, the wagon was taken outside. We would make the best of this abomination. High and awkward, it was useful for work, period. When the Bemish boys came down the trail and asked where we got the funny wagon, they laughed when we said, "From Santa Claus". They said there was no Santa Claus. I said there was and asked Mom to back me up. She looked funny and did not answer.

The Bemish boys went on down the steep trail to the bulkhead road. Once there they started yelling, "Santa Claus, Santa Claus", and throwing rocks up the hill at us. Finally I noticed the rocks moved very slowly at our elevation, and were easy to dodge. I picked one up and threw it back. It went down a lot faster than it came up. There was a loud yelp from below. Mom asked, "Did you throw a stone?" I said "No, Santa Claus threw one." That was a pretty good Christmas after all.

say Linda and Terry Smith, Bridgeway Market Owners.

"As our business grew, we needed to remodel to serve our customers and the community better. The Peninsula State Bank helped us achieve our goal. And our completed remodeling project has increased our ability to meet the needs of our many Peninsula Country customers."

Linda and Terry Smith became owners of the Bridgeway Market in Purdy two years ago. (They changed the name from Mac's Stop-n-Shop.) Terry had 18 1/2 years experience in retailing and immediately started putting his many ideas to work to serve customers and the community better. He and Linda prefer the Peninsula area to live. by VALDA YOUNG

If you are a gardner with newly planted trees and young shrubs, just file these suggestions for future use. Most of us have established plantings and now is the time to prune them back to a neat trim shape and at the same time provide yourself with a wonderful supply of Christmas greens. The florists will sell you wreaths and swags of fir and holly at very fancy prices, but your juniper, arborvitae, yew, cyprus and many other evergreen shrubs and trees make wonderful holiday decorations. Cut back branches that are growing into neighboring plants, over walks, or crowding out less aggressive plants. Try to retain their natural growing form, but be ruthless with those long pushing branches.

Now gather up those lovely greens, you will have material to deck your entire home for the holidays. Do not take them inside the house this early. Make up swags and wreaths, but lay them outside where the dew or rain will keep them fresh.

In mid-December bring them in, trim them with cones, holly berries, and a bright bow, and your friends will ask where you found such attractive decorations.

If your garden does not yield all these goodies, a neighbor may share with you, or go to the Christmas Show put on by Capitol District of Garden Clubs on December 7th and 8th at South Park Community Center, 48th and So. Tacoma Way. Members of Bay-shore Garden Club have tickets available. All types of greens, ribbons, and trimmings will be there for those who have no gardens to prune. You will also see new ideas for table settings and interesting designs for use in the entire house.

If you had any of the brown spotted leaves or fruit that was so prevalent this year, rake and burn all the leaves and runty fruit, then on the first windless, dry day apply your first dormant spray.

It is also time to prune fruit trees. Remove crossing, inward growing, broken branches. Shorten overly long shoots and remove water sprouts, those thin whips that grow around old pruning cuts. Fruit trees should be kept symetrical, open, and low enough to spray properly.

Any unplanted bulbs must be in the ground immediately.

THANKS

I want to thank everyone for the beautiful cards, flowers, and gifts during my recent illness.

THE REAL GIFTS

CUT COST OF FUEL

"Hey Dad! Come here and see this ad on T.V. That's what I want for Christmas." "Daddy, do ya know what I really, really, REALLY want for Christmas..." It's the first week of December and the Christmas appeals are being made. And for many the frustration of Christmas shopping, wrapping, decorating and baking begins.

How did all this giving of gifts begin? What is the precedent. The answers can be traced back to the birth of Jesus. Upon learning of the birth of Jesus, the Promised Messiah, Hagi traveled from the east to come and worship Him.

They came to Jerusalem and inquired of the earthly King Herod, "Where is the one who has been born King of the Jews?" (Matthew 2:2 NIV) They had been following the supernatural manifestation of the guiding star. When the star had led them to the place where Jesus was they were overjoyed, entered the home, and seeing Jesus they bowed down and worshipped Him. Everything about the actions of the Magi points to their divine recognition of Jesus.

Their gifts, too, reflect this recognition of the Christ child. Gold, Frankincense and Myrrh have long been viewed as gifts symbolizing the life of the promised Messiah. Gold was given the child recognizing Him as being King; frankincense was given him as being God, for it was frankincense that was burned as a sweet fragrance on the altar of God; myrrh was given to Him symbolizing his destined death. It was myrrh that was anointed to Jesus' body by Mary with her hair. (John 12: 1-3.

Christmas is a time of rejoicing for it celebrates the birth of the Saviour. Gifts of love to one another are not inappropriate, but shouldn't we also remember to honor Him who was born to die on that cruel cross to make it possible that each of us may experience forgiveness of sin, freedom from guilt, and life with meaning and purpose?....."Hey son! Got any gold, frankincense or Myrrh?..."

-Reverend Dick Bauer

LONGBRANCH CHURCH

The Longbranch Church will have a potluck supper and Candlelight Service on December 21st at 3:00 pm. It will be led by Rev. Marshall Ellis and the community is welcome.

The Ladies Aid of the Church are holding their annual Christmas dinner and gift exchange on Dec. 13th at 5:00 pm. with their families invited.

The Ruth Circle members and their families will have their annual Christmas dinner and party at the home of the Ken McDowells in Vaughn, December 14th at 5 pm.

Oregon's Pacific Power and Light performs energy audits - inspections of homes for heat loss. These audits and interest-free loans to home-owners cost EP, and L.14¢ per kilowatt hour. The alternative for the utility would be to build new generating plants at a cost of 4.3¢ per kilowatt hour.

As new electricity is paid for by the user by increasing his bills, it is a simple matter of saving 2/3 of new power cost by customers conserving use. This conservation lowers heat bills at once, pays for itself in quite a short time, and makes a home much more comfortable both in winter and summer.

Whether you heat with electricity, oil, or wood, you can cut your future costs drastically by winterizing your home. Besides the obvious basic steps of adding insulation, weatherstripping, and installing storm windows, etc., there are lesser-known but effective means:

1. Make "warmth compartments" in your home. This is no-cost or low cost method very easily done. Just decide which rooms need heat at a particular time of day. Close doors and shut off heat to areas not needing it. If there are no doors between areas, install ceiling to floor drapes.

2. If you have an older home with high ceilings, install a dropped "false" ceiling. This is a simple do-it-yourself project using tee grid metal supports hung from screw inserts and 2'X4' sheets of insulating board laid into the grid.

The dropped ceilings accomplish three things: (1) It reduces the cubic feet heated and thus improves comfort at floor and ceiling level; (2) It establishes an insulating air space between it and the old ceiling; (3) It "modernizes" by making better proportions between room size and ceiling height. Recessed lighting may be installed.
